

CHARITY LAW ASSOCIATION

The Association was established in 1992 with the aim of enabling charity advisers, charity professionals and others with expertise in charity matters to meet together, exchange ideas and intelligence, and use their experience and expertise for the benefit of the charity sector.

To ensure that we are free to promote any changes to charity law which appear to our members - based on their expertise in the field - to be necessary or desirable, the Association is not itself a charity.

We work closely with the Charity Commission and are now consulted by Government and others in connection with charity law issues.

We currently have over a 1000 members including many of the country's largest charities and most leading charity lawyers. Members or their representatives are able to attend quarterly meetings at which charity law and related issues are discussed. The Association also provides members with quarterly updates on developments in the field, the opportunity to attend its annual one day conference, the possibility of contributing to working parties, and hard and disc copies of each of the Charity Commission approved model documents.

Membership is open to any individual or organisation with an interest in charity law.
